

Color

Positive Content

....a strong desire to share emotional experiences with others.

....acquires social knowledge and skills through frequent contact with others.

....warm, positive attitudes toward others permits the use of intelligence and abilities without fear of clashing with others or making difficulties for themselves.

....little fear from close ties to others.

....interested in close ties to others.

....wants and seeks out intense emotional relations with other people.

(Piotrowski 1979, p. 228)