I agree with whoever said the writing looked like the writing of criminals (con artist type). And Milt, as for the Myers-Briggs types, I would see his behavior as ESTP:

Sees life as a game Life is never dull around them Friendly style with a theatrical flourish Resourceful

Socially sophisticated

Master manipulator of the environment

Uncanny observer of motivations of others

Picks up on nonverbal cues

Witty, clever and fun

Seems empathetic, but uses his knowledge to stay several jumps ahead

Exhilarated by working on the edge of disaster

Ruthless pragmatists who justify the means by the end

All,

What I do know about him is he is a smooth, fast talking charmer who is very smart (claims to be in Mensa), who can come across as very likable. He has no conscience, and a strong desire for recognition & to be admired. Based on what I know about him (not from his HW) I would say he's an egocentric narcissist.

What caught my eye in his HW was his felon claw type open bottom small letter a's.
